"In the money market rates show a hardming tendency, and the number of loans made under seven per cent. is small, although some transactions continue to be reported at six. This firmness in rates is attributable rather to the drain of currency to the South and Southwest than to a more active demand here, where the diminished volume of usiness at the Stock Exchange has materially restricted the wants of stock brokers. We hear that some of the larger holders of stocks are seeking to make long time loans, and for the use of money for four months are offering, in addition to the legal rate, one per cent. commission. Bu commercial paper is quiet, with the chief demand for prime short acceptances, which are submitted to a discount of 7168 per cent.; other grades are quoted at 81/0610

The New York Independent of the 9th inst, says of the dry goods market: The tone of the market for domestic cotons has somewhat improved, and there is rease their stock, but prices do not give way sufficiently to induce heavy purchases. The standard makes are comparatively firm, but in some of the less popular brands there has been a concession to the pur-chaser of half to a cent a yard.

There is a pretty general complaint of fullness among all classes of the trade; ut, as there is nothing in the aspect of affairs calculated to create any feeling of measiness as to the future, there is nothing like discouragement manifested, and all are looking forward hopefully to the next For the present the West is paying up

In unblesched cottons there is a firm feeling among the manufacturers' agents and a decided disposition to hold on to their stocks for the highest prices at the opening of the season in 1869. There is but little doing in bleached heetings and shirtings, and the same condition of affairs exists as in unbleached goods. But jobbers and the great shirt manufacturing houses will be under the Corner Broad and Front Streets, manufacturing nouses will be under the man. The former departed again with a and the manufacturers are confidently an- small cargo, including a few bales of cotpating an active demand, which The Talisman postponed har departure fully sustain if not advance prices.
